

Motivations for learning and AI influence

To foster a global and intercultural dialogue space where students critically analyze how governments promote learning motivation through educational policies, programs, and technological initiatives, examining the influence of artificial intelligence on student engagement and academic achievement across different countries, comparing diverse educational support systems in order to propose innovative strategies that enhance motivation and improve learning outcomes in higher education.

SATURDAY

June 27th of 2026

Starts at
09:00AM
(GMT-6)

REGISTER NOW

SPEAKER

Gabriela Alvarado

Benemérita Escuela Normal de Coahuila

Rebeca Mesquita

Universidade de Brasilia

Lucía Lanza

Universidad de la República de
Uruguay